Yes we can overcome them! Yes we can win to Capitalism! Because or Capitalism dies or the planet dies!

We are going to create international a popular front with the objectives to defend, to protect and to fight by the recovery of our natural environment.

This is the message of the 50 participants of the factory environment of the World-wide Conference of Women of Base Venezuela 2011, Caracas.

Let us listen in a shared in common interchange of opinions as ours pachamama is operated by the international monopolies, as it is contaminated and irritated in his I circulate natural.

Of the Ukraine we knew that still after 25 years of the ecological catastrophe in Chernobyl it continues being threatened the future of its children.

Of Ecuador we listen to of the fight against the operation of the seas by the international monopolies and their governments; also of the commitment with the protection of the Galápagos Islands and the national park Yasuní. They tell that a law for the protection and the guarantee of biodiversity exists. Many of them declare it like pure theory.

Of Italy we knew as women and men rebel themselves successful against the construction of a line of trains of high speed that would destroy the nature in favor of the exclusive transport of merchandise of the international companies.

In Mexico the indigenous women rebel against the companies of transgenic that force the farmers to buy their transgenic maize.

In Germany the nuclear industry and in favor of the exigency of renewable energy instead of the one of the coal and the natural gas burn grows the opposition against. The popular movement against the project Stuttgart 21 is against to the environmental destruction and the CO2 emission that accompanies it.

Women of several countries told to their problems with the sweepings and its nonpolluting elimination. It was presented/displayed like good possibility of change the cryonic recycling and the circular renewable economy that the model of the nature follows.

Our Venezuelan companions also underwent experiences like the contamination of their national parks, the water-bearing ones, the fish and human beings by international companies. As it passed in the example of the monocultures of Malanga in Sierra Perija or the contamination of the Maracaibo Lake.

We have recognized that the destruction of our natural environment is penetrated by the forms of the production and capitalist distribution.
